

NATIONAL NURSING NOW ROADSHOW

DARWIN

The triple impact of nursing: better health, greater gender equality and stronger economies

In September 2015 the nations of the world signed up to the ambitious goal of ensuring that everyone in the world should have access to health care – universal health coverage – and that nobody should be left behind.

The Triple Impact Report by the All-Party Parliamentary Group (APPG) on Global Health, makes the point that UHC cannot possibly be achieved without strengthening nursing globally. This is partly about increasing the number of nurses, but also crucially about making sure their contribution is properly understood and enabling them to work to their full potential.

The report argues that strengthening nursing will have the triple impact of improving health, promoting gender equality and supporting economic growth.

Nurses are by far the largest part of the professional health workforce and achieving universal health coverage globally will depend on them being able to use their knowledge and skills to the full. Yet they are too often undervalued and their contribution underestimated.

The triple impact report argues that there is an urgent need globally to raise the profile of nursing and enable nurses to work to their full potential if countries are to achieve universal health coverage. Nursing can and must take the lead on these issues but cannot achieve them without the support of politicians, policy-makers and non-nursing leaders.

Proudly partnered with

Australian Government
Australian Digital Health Agency

My Health Record

JOIN US FOR AN EXPERT PANEL DISCUSSION

DATE

Monday 2 September 2019

TIME

Registration 5:30pm
6.00pm – 8.30pm

ADDRESS

Vibe Hotel Darwin
Waterfront
7 Kitchener Drive
Darwin NT 0800

REGISTER HERE

[www.acn.edu.au/
acn-darwin-roadshow](http://www.acn.edu.au/acn-darwin-roadshow)

NATIONAL NURSING NOW ROADSHOW

DARWIN

The triple impact of nursing: better health,
greater gender equality
and stronger economies

OUR PANEL OF SPEAKERS INCLUDES:

ADJUNCT PROFESSOR KYLIE WARD FACN

Chief Executive Officer, Australian College of Nursing

Kylie Ward FACN is a renowned leader and a passionate CEO who has shaped the Australian College of Nursing (ACN) to become a prominent and influential professional organisation. As well as leading a strong and collective voice for the nursing profession to improve patient outcomes and the social determinants of health for all Australians, Kylie is also driven to improve gender equality and diversity as well as promoting the importance of women in leadership roles both nationally and internationally.

Kylie's distinguished career spans almost three decades, and has seen her hold Executive positions in the largest health services in NSW and Victoria. Through her commitment to reform, transformational change and leadership development, she has been awarded honorary Professorships from Monash University, Deakin University, University of Technology Sydney, Western Sydney University and Federation University.

Kylie is the first nurse to be appointed by the Federal Minister as a Board Director of the Australian Digital Health Agency (ADHA).

ADJUNCT PROFESSOR SUE HAWES FACN

Chief Nursing and Midwifery Officer, Northern Territory

Adjunct Professor Sue Hawes is the Chief Nursing and Midwifery Officer for NT Health. Sue provides system-wide professional leadership, strategic direction, and workforce planning to ensure a competent, culturally secure and contemporary nursing and midwifery workforce across the NT.

Sue is a senior clinician with executive, strategic and operational leadership experience of more than 30 years working across health and the social welfare sector. She has extensive experience in co-design with consumers and health services to implement real change to improve clinical and health system outcomes.

KATE ELLIS

Australian Digital Health Agency
Representative

Kate Ellis is a registered pharmacist and Education and Clinical Use Lead at the Australian Digital Health Agency (ADHA).

Kate has more than 12 years' experience working in the healthcare industry, including roles as a pharmacy manager and clinical pharmacist at Mater Health Services.

Kate is also an experienced clinical educator, she has authored accredited CPD articles for industry magazine publications, and she is in the process of completing postgraduate qualifications in clinical pharmacy. She has also worked as a Professional Practice Pharmacist at the Pharmacy Guild of Australia where she mentored and trained intern pharmacists.

Kate is passionate about continued education. Through her work at the ADHA Kate has helped lead the change management of digital health solutions through education to healthcare professionals and stakeholders in a wide range of clinical settings.

NATIONAL NURSING NOW ROADSHOW

DARWIN

The triple impact of nursing: better health, greater gender equality and stronger economies

OUR PANEL OF SPEAKERS INCLUDES:

PROFESSOR LEONARD NOTARAS AM

Executive Director National Critical Care and Trauma Response Centre

Professor Leonard Notaras has been the Executive Director of Australia's NCCTRC since 2016, and from 2009-2014. Leonard was appointed as the Chief Executive of the Northern Territory Department of Health in 2014. For more than 16 years he was also the Medical Superintendent at Royal Darwin Hospital, General Manager and Principal Medical Consultant.

He's an Associate Fellow of the Australasian College of Health Service Management (ACHSM) and a former ACHSM NT President. Leonard was a founding member of the Australian Council on Healthcare (ACHS) and is currently President of ACHS and ACHSI.

As a member of the NT Medical Board and former Chair of the NT Pharmacy, Optometrist and Radiographers Boards, he has played a key role in negotiating changes to legislation, which saw the development of Australian Prudential Regulation Authority (APRA) and national registration.

Leonard is a former member of Australian Health Protection Principle Committee (AHPPC), a former chair of Australian Health Ministers' Advisory Council (AHMAC) Committee's IT subcommittee and member of AHMAC.

In 2003, Leonard was awarded membership to the Order of Australia in recognition of his work in the Bali Assist Response.

PROFESSOR CATHERINE STODDART PSM

Chief Executive, Department of Health, Northern Territory

Catherine Stoddart commenced as the Chief Executive Officer NT Health in late March 2017. She was previously the Deputy Chief Executive and Chief Nurse at Oxford University Hospitals Foundation Trust in the NHS in the UK from March 2014. Catherine has held positions across health including Chief Nurse and Midwifery Officer of Western Australia, Regional Director for the Kimberly region, Executive Director Nursing and Midwifery WACHS, and Director Clinical Reform WA Health. Catherine is committed to ensuring that Territorians have access to high quality care right across the Territory.

Catherine is a Nuffield Fellow (2000) and Churchill Fellow (2006) and a Visiting Professor of Nursing at Oxford Brookes University and a BJM Leaders Associate Editor.

Catherine has a Bachelor of Science (Nursing), Master of Project Management and Master of Business Administration. She was awarded the 2011 Telstra Western Australia Business Woman of the Year for a range of leadership development and Aboriginal employment programs across Health. In September 2013, she received the Public Service Medal in recognition of her contribution to health and innovative global community health volunteering programs.

NICKI HERRIOT

Chief Executive Officer, Primary Health Network, Northern Territory

Nicki Herriot is a dynamic professional who believes in leading teams to build an inclusive and high performing organisation. Nicki was appointed as the Chief Executive Officer of the Northern Territory Primary Health Network in October 2014, following her tenure as Executive Manager Corporate Services from April 2013 to October 2014.

Her extensive experience as a human resources professional includes roles across all areas of the discipline. Prior to coming to NT PHN, Nicki was the Director Workforce Engagement for Queensland Transport and Main Roads, where she delivered a range of strategic projects including an improved state-wide scholarship program; strategies to sustain increased numbers of Indigenous employees; several large, state-wide change management processes and enhance attraction and retention initiatives targeting long-term skills shortages.

At NT PHN Board, Nicki brings to her role her well-developed understanding and stakeholder relationships within the healthcare system, expertise in leading organisational change, building capacity and strategic thinking. Nicki is also involved in the management group for the national PHN Cooperative, the network of the 31 PHNs across Australia.

Nicki is a non-executive Director for Northern Territory General Practice Education.